THREE GENERALS
INTERCEPTED ON
WAY TO EASTU-Boat Surrender To Yanks
Revealed By Atlantic
Fleet Commander

U. S. NAVY SANK 126 SUBS

Convoy Operations Will Be Continued Until All
U-Boats Give Up

WASHINGTON, May 17—Surrender of a German submarine
heading for Japan with three Luftwaffe generals and two Japanese
aboard led to speculation today
that Adolf Hitler, Heinrich Him-mler or other high Nazis might be trying to escape under the sea to Japan.

Adm. Jonas H. Ingram, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet, revealed the surprise to newsmen yesterday at a press conference in which he reviewed the entire course of the battle of the Atlantic.

In addition to capture of the Japan-bound U-boat Ingram revealed
that:

1. Three weeks before Germany
surrendered, one of the most powerful U. S. carrier and destroyerescort forces ever to operate in mid-Atlantic broke up a formidable U-boat wolf pack. The U-boat force had orders to "blanket the east coast from Maine to Florida."

2. In more than 16,000 convoys escorted by the Atlantic fleet a total of 15 merchantmen were lost
to enemy submarines.

3. The U. S. Navy definitely accounted for 126 German U-boats
during the battle of the Atlantic
out of a total of about 500 sunk
by the Allies.

4. Convoy operations will continue in the Atlantic until every Nazi submarine is accounted for.
In a last desperate attack before Germany's capitulation five
freighters were torpedoed off the United States east coast. All but two reached port.

The two Japanese aboard the Japan-bound submarine were not identified. They committed hara-
kari—the Japanese version of suicide—before the vessel surrendered.

The identity of the three Nazi
air generals were not known either. The vessel is now on its way to Portsmouth, N. H., for the formal surrender. It is expected to arrive in a few days.

The Japan-bound U-boat was loaded with air force charts and equipment—probably destined for use by the Japanese in their war against the Allies. It surrendered
in obedience to orders of Grand Adm. Karl Doenitz.

It would not be fantastic to suppose that some high Nazis might try to escape to Japan. Since Hitler's body has never been found

15-FOOT RIVER
CREST EXPECTEDHeavy Rains Boom Scioto
And Creeks; Planting
Of Crops Delayed

Scioto river was booming Thursday as rain continued to pour on Circleville and Pickaway county.

The weather bureau at Columbus warned Roy Hawkes, local weather observer, that a 15-foot
crest could be expected in the Scioto here by Friday morning. The stage reported Thursday morning
was 5.17 feet.

A total fall of 1.80 inches of rain was reported here in the 24
hour period ending at 7 a. m.
Thursday. More rain Thursday and heavy rains north of the county
pushed the river toward the high stage expected.

Pickaway county has had enough rain this month so far to fulfill the necessary amount for

'FREEDOM DAY'

BY NORWEGIANS

By United Press
King Haakon greeted his people
today on the occasion of Norway's
"Freedom Day" and thanked them
for their fortitude during the
hard years of German occupation.

His proclamation, broadcast by Oslo radio and heard by the FCC,
also warned the Norwegians that
the war against Japan would make it difficult to import civilian supplies for some time.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower sent a message to the Norwegians calling their contribution to victory
"a shining example in our common struggle against all oppression and violence." He promised all non-Norwegian forces would be withdrawn as soon as Norway had regained "complete liberation."

British Prime Minister Churchill
also sent a message in which he told the people of Norway "You
may depend upon the sincere support and friendship of the whole British people."

HIMMLER'S WIFE
IS FOUND IN
NORTHERN ITALYFrau Himmler Says Nazi
Leaders "Are All
Better Off Dead"

DR. LEY IS CAPTURED

Leader Of Labor Front Found
By Americans In House
Near Berchtesgaden

By United Press
Army authorities in Rome confirmed today that Heinrich Himmler's
wife and 15-year-old daughter
had been found in a mountain
chalet in northern Italy and said
they would be treated merely as refugees, not political prisoners.

A Rome dispatch said Frau
Margaret Himmler, 51, and her daughter told questioners that they assumed Himmler, Nazi war
criminal No. 1 and Gestapo chief,
had been killed in Berlin with Adolf Hitler.

"They are all better off dead,"
Frau Himmler said.

Authorities in Rome treated the
two women as "displaced persons" and said they would be sent to a refugee camp. They were picked up at a chalet 15 miles northeast of Bolzano and 10 miles from the prison camp where former Austrian chancellor Kurt Von Schuschnigg was found.

Other sources reported Himmler
still was hiding out in the vicinity of Flensburg, near the Danish
border and seat of the Doenitz
government.

Though Himmler remained at large, another much-wanted Nazi war criminal, Dr. Robert Ley, was captured by American 101st airborne troops in a house 40 miles
south of Berchtesgaden.

Dr. Ley, leader of the labor front, councillor of the Prussian
state and one of the organizers
of the Nazi party, at first denied
his identity, but later admitted
he was the man sought.

He was wearing pajamas and
had a week's growth of beard
when found. One report said he tempted to swallow poison after
his capture but failed.

From Copenhagen came word
that Maj. Gen. Hermann von Hanneken, former commander of the German occupation army in Denmark, had been arrested in Germany on charges of swindling the German army. He was notorious in Copenhagen for his champagne
parties.

A London Daily Mail dispatch
from Holland said Norman Bailie-Stewart, who was sentenced by Britain in 1933 to five years in prison for betraying military secrets to Germany, had been captured by British troops.

SOLONS FAVOR
GRADUATED PAY
INCREASE PLAN

COLUMBUS, May 17—The
senate finance committee today
had abandoned its plan to grant
all county elective officials a 25
per cent salary increase in favor
of a graduated pay increase with-
in their present wage structure.

County elective officials in Ohio are paid on a graduated scale based on population and the amended bill would help the officials of the smaller counties by providing a substantial increase in the first two brackets. Other brackets would be unchanged.

Under the plan, the engineer in a county of 70,000 population
would be increased from $4,250
to $4,825, a jump of $575, while
the engineer in the county of 25-000 population would be raised from $2,100 to $2,800.

Prosecuting attorneys would receive the largest increase under the bill. Their rate of pay for the first 15,000 population would be increased from $60 to $100
per thousand and on the second 15,000 population from $50 to $75.

RANGOON KEY TO NEW ASSAULTS

WITH THE CAMPAIGN in Burma in the mop-up stage and Rangoon firmly in Allied hands, the Allied future in this theatre looks brightly. Possession of Rangoon (1) opens a supply route for material which can be brought in by ship and transported on the Mandalay railroad to Lashio (2), where trucks can pick it up and haul it over the Burma Road to Chungking (3) and the front lines. Victory in Burma also opens the way for landings on the Malay Peninsula (4) and Sumatra (5) by amphibious forces whose eventual objective will be the recapture of Singapore (6),
the former British East Indian naval base. (International)

Conference Action Again
Slowed Down As Russians
Wait Word From Moscow

SAN FRANCISCO, May 17—United Nations conference action on two remaining major issues—trusteeships and regional arrangements—
was blocked today as the Soviet delegation waited for instructions from Moscow.

Delegates were weary after more than three weeks of deliberations and many were openly annoyed at the new delays. Hopes of adjourning
this conference by June 1 again
were fading.

The conference committee on
trusteeships will proceed with discussions of a "working paper"
which merges most of the United States and British ideas on the subject. But formal action will have to await word from Moscow
on how the Soviet delegation
should vote on several controversial issues.

The conference committee on
regional arrangements was completely bogged down because of the inability of the Soviet delegation to state its position. The committee hasn't even formally presented with the U. S. compromise proposal which was announced Tuesday night.

The big four agreed to consult
before submitting any major
amendments to the Dumbarton Oaks plan. Those consultations
now are going on but in this case
it means waiting for a reply from Moscow since all the other big powers are in agreement.

Authoritative sources said the United States was prepared to give the Soviet Union until tonight. If Moscow's reply is not here then, the United States will present the regional compromise
formula as its own suggestion
rather than as that of the big four.

Many chief delegates had feared
that the early departure of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov would lead to the current difficulties. It has happened at other international conferences, notably
the Bretton Woods monetary conference, where the end of the conference had to be postponed because of the Russian delay.

The trusteeship issue is not too
badly bogged down. It started from scratch at this conference.
Yesterday Cmdr. Harold E. Stassen presented a so-called "working paper." It incorporates the ideas of several nations, using the U. S. plan as a base, without prejudicing the right of any nation to offer amendments.

Delegates have been looking
longingly toward June 1 as adjournment day, but a high American source said today he thought
it would be impossible to finish
the tremendous job in that time.
He referred to the difficult drafting job and especially to the problem of translating the final document into five languages so that

VON PAPEN MAY BE INDICTED AS WAR CRIMINALGerman Troubleshooter Is Charged With Complicity
In Terrorism Plots

'GRAY FOX' UNDER ARREST

Commission Member Says He Is Regarded As Part
Of Terror Ring

LONDON, May 17—The United Nations war crimes commission
is examining the records of Baron
Franz von Papen, Germany's ace
diplomatic troubleshooter in two
wars, and his indictment as a war
criminal was reported today to be a virtual certainty.

Responsible sources said Von Papen had been charged before the commission with "complicity in systematic terrorism and other crimes."

Von Papen, the so-called "Gray Fox" of German diplomacy, was taken when the Allies encircled the Ruhr. He still is under close military arrest, his whereabouts secret.
Supreme headquarters has refused
to disclose any details of the investigation.

Lt. Col. Joseph V. Hodgson,
American member of the war
crimes commission, told the United Press that "personally I regard Von Papen as part and parcel of the Nazi terror ring in Europe." The commission's policy of secrecy forbade Hodgson from discussing any details of the investigation.

Von Papen's name was on a list
of 300 "key" Nazis now being investigated in detail by commission
experts. After the first world war
he escaped Scot free, although his plotting was said to have included
the direction of sabotage which cost many American lives.

Like other Nazis, Von Papen
strove to plant the impression
after his capture that he never had been close to Adolf Hitler. His last official post was ambassador to Turkey. For a time the possibility
was seen that his diplomatic status
would absolve him of any technical war guilt.

However, at the insistence of a group of Allied governments—
probably including the American—
his name was placed on a secondary list for complete investigation.

The list also includes the names
of many German industrial and financial leaders—men who provided money and material for the development of Nazism, according to informants here.

The legal issue concerning the propriety of indicting men in this group was settled when Lord
Wright, chairman of the commission and one of Britain's outstanding legal authorities ruled that "a man who finances or abets a crime
is an accomplice."

Wright handed down the ruling
after a query to the commission
by members of the United States

LT. HENDERSON
LIBERATED FROM
NAZI POW CAMP

First Lt. James L. Henderson,
27, son of Mrs. Leo Henderson,
West Ohio street, has been freed
from a prison camp in Germany,
according to an announcement,
made Thursday.

Lt. Henderson was captured
during the invasion of Holland in September, 1944. He is a veteran of three years in the Army.

Mrs. Henderson received a letter
from Congressman John M. Vorys,
who had been on a tour of the prison camps in Germany. He wrote—

"I saw James Henderson, Thursday, May 3d, in Noosburg in Germany, near Austria. This American prisoner of war camp had been liberated a few days before. He was in good health and spirits considering what he had been thru. He sends love to all and wants to get home. I promised to write you in case I got back before he did."

THOUSANDS OF HOMES PLANNED250,000 To 400,000 To Be Built During Next Year;
Still Hard To Get

WASHINGTON, May 17—Between 250,000 to 400,000 new houses and apartments will be built during the next year but
don't count on moving into one unless you are a war worker, a veteran or a "hardship case."

The number of new homes to be built in the next 12 months is more than twice as many as the number begun during 1944. However there will be about three times as many servicemen released from the armed forces this year and these 2,000,000 veterans will have top priority to build homes.

Already 5,163 ex-servicemen
have had applications for new homes approved since the new long-range housing program of the national housing agency got under way in November, 1944. The veterans administration, which guar-

G. I. bill of rights, expects the number of applications for new

LARGEST OHIO
APPROPRIATIONS
BILL IN SENATE

COLUMBUS, May 17—The
largest appropriations bill in Ohio
history—carrying $391,499,696 for operating expenses alone during
the next two years—today was headed for the senate finance committee and still further increases.

One of the first additions which
the senate committee probably will make will be approximately $6,500,000 which would be needed
to finance the school foundation
program if the senate-approved
Daniels-Cramer bill passes the house.

The appropriations bill which passed the house yesterday by a vote of 118-4 after a drawn-out
debate carried only $106,313,218
for schools—the amount recommended by Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

The Daniels-Cramer bill, which passed the senate and was recommended by the house education
committee over Lausche's protests, would require about $111-000,000 for school operating expenses alone. Lausche's figure included $2,000,000 for rehabilitation.

Meanwhile, the senate by a vote
of 20-9 defeated the Sheppard-Boyd bill to adopt the Massachusetts, or office form of ballot in Ohio when its supporters were snowed under by a storm of opposition from Democrats and Republicans alike.

POSSIBLY HALF
OF NAGOYA IS
LEFT IN RUINSFlames Visible For 150 Miles
Following New Raids On Large Jap City

1,400 NIPS KILLED DAILY

46,505 Jap. Troops Reported
Killed And 1,038 Taken
Captives By Yanks

By United Press
Great waves of American Super-fortresses spread fires through 16
more square miles of industrial Nagoya today in the fourth of a series of raids to obliterate the enemy's largest aircraft manufacturing center.

A Japanese Domei dispatch recorded by the FCC said that 40
small Allied planes from Iwo bases flew over Tokyo for 30 minutes today, strafing the Fujisawa area
outside the metropolitan area.

The Nagoya raiding force, equal-
ing or perhaps exceeding the record 500-plane B-29 force which
fired nine square miles in the city
Monday, rained 575,000 fire bombs
weighing 3,500 tons on the city's southern factory district in 90 minutes before dawn.

Returning pilots said "fire was
all over the place" and flames
were visible for 150 miles.

The nine-mile square area "ignited" 7 1/2 hours earlier still was smoldering when the first wave
of B-29's swept over the city at 3 a. m. Japanese time.

In each of the last two raids,
the bombers unloaded a greater
weight of fire bombs than ever
was dumped on a German city in a single Allied raid.

The target area included the Mitsubishi aircraft plant, largest
of its kind in the world, five other
major war plants and less important war factories, transportation
facilities, warehouses and workers
home industries.

Coupled with previous raids, the damage possibly left half of the city, Japan's third largest, in ruins.

Meanwhile the battle across
southern Okinawa raged with unparalleled fury.

Tenth army troops, killing Japanese at the rate of one a minute,
drove into the outskirts of Yona-
baru on the east coast and tightened a pincers within 200 yards of inland stronghold of Shuri.

At the western end of the line,
Marine patrols probed through Naha, the capital, within 300 yards of the business center. They found streets and buildings littered with hundreds of dead Japanese.

A Pacific fleet communiqué said
46,505 Japanese had been killed
and 1,038 captured through Tuesday. In the last five days the Americans have been killing Japanese at the rate of 1,400 every 24
hours.

American casualties for the first 44 days of the campaign were set at 3,781 dead, 17,004 wounded
and 165 missing—a total of 20,950.

Twelve Japanese planes approached American warships off Okinawa Tuesday night but were

BINGO MEASURE
APPROVED BY SENATE GROUP

COLUMBUS, May 17—The Senate judiciary committee today had recommended for passage a second time the much debated Shurtz
bill to outlaw bingo and other games of chance in Ohio.

Hearings on the bill were reopened after the measure had been recommended for passage two weeks ago when Sen. Fred G.
Reiners, R., Hamilton, chairman
of the committee, announced that
several additional persons wanted
to be heard in opposition to the bill.

THREE GENERALS INTERCEPTED ON WAY TO EAST

U-Boat Surrender To Yanks Revealed By Atlantic Fleet Commander

(Continued from Page One) many officials believe him to be still alive. It is definitely known that some German U-boats are capable of the trip to Tokyo.

Of the 50 to 60 such craft believed to be at sea at the time of Doenitz's surrender order, from 10 to 20 are still unaccounted for. It is possible that some of the commanders have not received the surrender order, or perhaps have chosen to hide at some obscure port for fear of being on the war criminals list. On the other hand some might be en route to Japan.

The Allies will probably set a deadline soon, as they did in the last war, for remaining U-boats to surrender. After that time those not accounted for will be hunted down and sunk wherever they are found.

Other high-lights of Ingram's statement on the battle of the Atlantic:

A German submarine was boarded and captured by an escort carrier group in June, 1944, and towed 2,500 miles back to Bermuda after the Americans prevented the water-filled U-boat from sinking. This was the first time the U. S. Navy had boarded and captured a foreign warship on the high seas since 1815.

A Japanese submarine was sunk last summer south of Iceland by American forces. Two other Japanese undersea craft were detected in the South Atlantic. One was damaged by U. S. naval forces but both got away.

A German submarine responsible for sinking an American merchantman off the Rhode Island coast was hunted down and sunk in a dramatic surface battle by the destroyer escort Buckley just 24 hours before Germany's surrender.

Ingram said buzz bombs would have buzzed over the U. S. east coast in the last stages of the war if four escort carriers and 75 destroyers had not roamed the high seas to sink eight enemy U-boats and render others harmless by keeping them down.

TENSE TRIESTE SITUATION SAID TO BE IMPROVED

LONDON, May 17—The tense Trieste situation appeared eased somewhat today after conciliatory moves and remarks by both sides.

Marshal Tito had withdrawn his troops from west of the Isonzo river in northern Italy, where they had been encroaching on territory taken by the Allied armies. And it was stressed in Rome that the appearance of a British fleet in Trieste harbor was not intended as a show of strength to Tito.

However, there were no reports so far that Tito had replied to the American and British notes asking the withdrawal of his forces from the city. A United Press dispatch from Trieste reported that heavily-armed partisans still patrolled the city's streets, rubbing elbows with American G. I.'s and white-uniformed British Tars.

The Yugoslavs continued to act as though they were in Trieste to stay. Red-painted signs such as "the future of Trieste lies with Yugoslavia" dotted the city, and there was one such sign even on American Army headquarters at Gorizia, the other Italian port figuring in the dispute.

VON PAPEN MAY BE INDICTED AS WAR CRIMINAL

German Troubleshooter Is Charged With Complicity In Terrorism Plots

The commission already has indicted Hjalmar Schacht, German financial wizard, and Count Schwerin von Krosigk, former finance minister and lately designated as foreign minister in the "government"—not recognized as such by the Allies—of Admiral Karl Doenitz.

The group under investigation includes men prominent in many German armament and steel firms.

As for Von Papen, Russia has listed him as a war criminal. The Soviet army organ Red Star yesterday said he was "among the most dangerous war criminals in Allied hands."

TAXI AND AUTO COLLIDE AT CITY INTERSECTION

No one was injured seriously in an accident between a taxicab, driven by James Patton, 46, Circleville, and an automobile, driven by Wesley Justus, 78, Circleville, Wednesday at 4 p. m. The accident occurred at the intersection of Pickaway and Mound streets.

A fire hydrant was hit and broken by the taxicab as a result of the collision. Considerable water escaped from the broken hydrant.

Both vehicles suffered considerable damage as a result of the collision. Mr. Justus, his wife reported, suffered a mild heart attack, following the collision, but evidenced no broken bones. Mr. Patton had a slight knee injury but did not think it was serious enough to require medical attention.

15-FOOT RIVER CREST EXPECTED

(Continued from Page One) June with a little extra thrown in for shrinkage. Rain has fallen on all but four of the days of May which is traditionally a month dedicated to "bringing flowers". And Thursday there were few indications of any letup in precipitation.

Farmers have been faced with the problem of trying to get crops planted through a period of almost unrelenting rainfall. A total of 25.56 inches of rainfall have already fallen over the county so far this year. March which is usually a month for the farmers to condition fields for spring planting saw better than 11 inches of rainfall. April had 4.44 inches of rain. It rained almost half the number of days in April. The rainfall in May has been 3.53 inches in the first 16 days.

An abnormally early spring brought many crops out ahead of schedule and then retarded them with two heavy frosts. One of the Spring's heaviest frosts came in May.

Should the rainfall continue many more days farmers will be forced to pass up corn planting and instead plant a shorter season crop such as soy beans.

High temperature Wednesday was 63 degrees. Low Thursday was 62 degrees. Weather forecast for Thursday was "more rain".

1,317,089 AMERICANS LANDED IN SCOTLAND

LONDON, May 17 — The first large contingent of American soldiers sent to Britain—more than 10,000—arrived at Gourock, Scotland June 9, 1942 aboard the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth, it was disclosed officially last night.

Up to Dec. 31, 1944, a total of 1,317,089 American soldiers disembarked at Gourock from 339 luxury liners and troop ships.

The world's record passenger haul across the Atlantic was set June 6, 1943 when the Queen Mary brought 23,000 American soldiers to Gourock.

PROBABLE ZONES OF OCCUPATION IN GERMANY

FLAGS OF THE UNITED STATES, Great Britain and Russia mark the tentative occupation zones of the "Big Three" in Germany that are indicated (above) by heavy lines. The reported plan of the Allies is that the southwest zone will be taken over by the United States, the northwest by Great Britain, and the central and eastern sections by Russia. The area between the French border and the Rhine may be policed by France. Territory west of the Rhine may be occupied by Luxembourg, Belgium and the Netherlands. (International)

THOUSANDS OF HOMES PLANNED

Your chances of building a new home improve considerably, however, if you can prove to federal housing authorities you are a "hardship case."

If you can show that you are in poor health and can no longer climb the stairs of your present home, that your house is too small for your increasing family or that you have been living "doubled-up" with another family — you are a hardship case.

A total of 20,634 hardship cases have been approved for new homes since Nov. 1, 1944.

Veterans who have been certified by the veterans administration and persons who believe they can prove they are "hardship" cases should apply to the nearest FHA office if they want to build new homes.

In addition to this permanent home-building program NHA also will authorize 60,000 more family units under its war housing program. Virtually all of the units will be begun during the next year. War workers in congested areas will get these houses.

JAP PRESS SAYS WAR SITUATION AT GRAVE STAGE

(By United Press) The Tokyo press told the Japanese people today that the war situation on Okinawa had entered a "grave stage" and that there was "no room for any optimistic thinking whatsoever."

"No matter which paper we pick up, we learn that the enemy's offensive drive has become extremely severe and concentrated," a Tokyo home radio broadcast reported by the FCC.

"These articles call for an all-out effort... to concentrate our entire fighting on Okinawa so that 'power can deal a fatal single blow to the enemy forces.'"

The Tokyo press also reported that the Japanese navy had sunk a U. S. Navy ship, the USS LST-1161, off the coast of Okinawa. The ship was carrying 1,000 tons of supplies and 100 crew members. The crew was rescued and taken to Japan.

CONFERENCE ACTION AGAIN SLOWED DOWN AS RUSSIANS WAIT WORD FROM MOSCOW

The big five spent most of a two-hour meeting late yesterday trying to figure out ways of speeding committee work. No specific steps were taken, but there was discussion of the possibility of limiting the time a delegate can talk, limiting the number of times a delegate can talk, setting up of an expediting group, or the possibility of merging similar amendments.

Most committees still were hearing delegates explain their country's views on certain sections of the Dumbarton Oaks plan or on proposed amendments.

Conference officials nevertheless less plan to begin public commission sessions Friday to consider work done by committees.

Another committee last night approved proposals providing that the secretary general be required to notify the general assembly of any matter relating to maintenance of international peace and security, and that the assembly be entitled to call the attention of the security council to situations which it believes likely to endanger the peace. Other proposals relating to the general assembly were rejected.

A Dutch broadcast said 2,000 to 3,000 top SS elite guard troops would be held in Holland for trial for war crimes. The remainder of the German garrison of 120,000 will be sent by ship to Emden, the broadcast said.

Supreme headquarters at Paris said special 10-man teams from the war crimes branch under Judge-Advocate Brig. Gen. Edward C. Betts had been investigating war crimes in Germany for more than a month.

The teams were investigating crimes against allied military personnel as well as civilians. Evidence will be used in the trials of accused war criminals.

FRENCH ZONE OF OCCUPATION IS STILL UNSETTLED

WASHINGTON, May 17—Official sources said today the only undecided question about the four occupation zones in Germany concerns the exact makeup of the French zone.

However, the big three and France are said to have reserved the right eventually to divorce the valley entirely from Germany and make it an international settlement. Under such an arrangement it would probably become an adopted child of the United Nations security organization.

Once agreement has been reached on the boundaries of the French zone, it was said, the problem of occupation areas will be settled. Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy U. S. occupation chief for Germany, said in Paris yesterday he believed the exact and final occupation zones would be agreed on within a few days.

ASHVILLE

One of the most interesting meetings in years was held at the Pythian Temple 366 Tuesday evening when a class of eight was initiated into the Pythian Sisters. An excellent pot-luck supper was served to approximately 70 members and guests. Several visitors were present from Circleville and Canal Winchester. Miss Joanne Johnson, Miss Mary Helen Dennis, Mrs. Everette Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fortner, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hines became members by initiation and Ben B. Morrison by re-initiation. At a recent meeting Mrs. Marie Cloud became a member of the order while F. G. Hudson re-initiated.

The public is cordially invited to attend the Senior Class Night at the school auditorium Friday beginning at 8:00. An excellent program has been prepared by the class consisting of the following numbers: Class Creed, Louella Williamson; Class Prophecy, Faye Dowler; Class Will, Wilma Jean Whitehead; Class History, Mary Ellen Hines; President's Proclamation, Richard Hudson; Vocal Solo, Ethel Wallen; Piano Solo, Betty Lou Musselman; Accordion Solo, Ada Lou Beckett; Class Poem (written by Fred Puckett), Norma Jean Hines; and Presentation of Awards, Supt. Walter L. Harris.

Burglars who broke into the Ashville School Tuesday night evidently were interested only in money as nothing else of value seems missing. Only a small sum of money was in the building, and most of the loss is to the building and its equipment. Desks, doors, and filing cabinets were forced open doing some damage. Representatives of the sheriff's department visited the school seeking for clues and finger prints.

Doran Topolosky has been ill for the past few days.

A fair-sized crowd attended the May meeting of the Ashville Lockbourne Brotherhood Wednesday evening. Lunch was served by a committee composed of E. L. Runkle, H. A. Topolosky, G. A. Hook, and Edwin Irwin. The next meeting will be held in Lockbourne June 20 with James Barch in charge of the program.

Don Haffey, who has been overseas for a short time, has been promoted to private first class.

FEED PAYMENTS ARE BEING MADE

May 30 Deadline For First Quarter Applications At AAA Office

The Pickaway County AAA Committee is making payments on dairy production for the months of January, February and March. The rate of payment is 70 cents per hundredweight on whole milk and 11 cents a pound on butterfat. Producers may file applications for this payment at any time during April and May, according to John G. Boggs, chairman, Pickaway County AAA Committee.

Mr. Boggs emphasized that farmers must file their applications not later than May 30, 1945 in order to be eligible for this payment. To date 1,025 applications for payment based on dairy production in January, February and March have been received. A total of 1,076 applications were filed in the previous payment period.

Mr. Boggs says that plans for 1945 call for the payments to be issued on a quarterly basis and that it is the first quarter payment that is now being issued. For the next quarter, the payment rates on production will be 60 cents per hundredweight on whole milk and 17 cents per pound of butterfat for April production, and 25 cents per hundredweight on whole milk and 10 cents per pound on butterfat basis for May and June production in all counties in the State.

The July - August - September rates are 45-13, and October, November, December, January, February and March rates are 60-17.

"That Grass is our Living, Son!"

WHAT THIS RANCHER SAYS to his son is very true. Grass does provide their living . . . and a good part of the living for all of us here in America. More than half a billion acres of the United States—roughly, 50% of all our farm and ranch lands—is in grass. "Should its harvest fail for a single year," said John James Ingalls, "famine would depopulate the world."

Grass is the preserver of much of our agricultural wealth and the basic raw material of many of our necessities. It is a major crop. And more than that, it's nature's way of transferring health-building materials . . . vitamins, minerals, and other essential elements . . . from the soil into the foods that nourish the nation. Grass must pass through livestock to be converted into products useful to man.

So let's give our pastures, meadows and range lands the care they deserve. Grass on your steeper slopes should never be broken. In the long run, it is your most profitable crop on hillsides because it controls erosion by tying down your top soil and reduces evaporation of essential moisture. Your State Agricultural Experiment Station will tell you of new and improved varieties of grass you might try to your profit, and they will also advise you about reseeding, lime, and fertilizer. And never overlook this important rule of grass care—don't overgraze!

We at Swift & Company are marketing the products of your grass, and so we say with you, "Grass is our living, too!"

The uses for black wool are limited so care must be exercised to keep it properly sorted in the wool clip. However, manufacturers do weave it into broadcloth. And—believe it or not—the wool from the black sheep in the flock becomes clothing for the clergy.

Meet Bill Reneker, Swift's Head Hog Buyer

If you have marketed hogs since 1907, chances are that Bill Reneker bought some of them for he has bought more than 30 million for Swift's . . . some of them in Western Canada where he was buyer from 1916 to 1923, and the rest in the U. S. A. He became head hog buyer for Swift & Company in 1932.

When not buying hogs, Bill Reneker likes to judge them in the show ring. Right now he's booked until next September to judge at several shows and hog meetings.

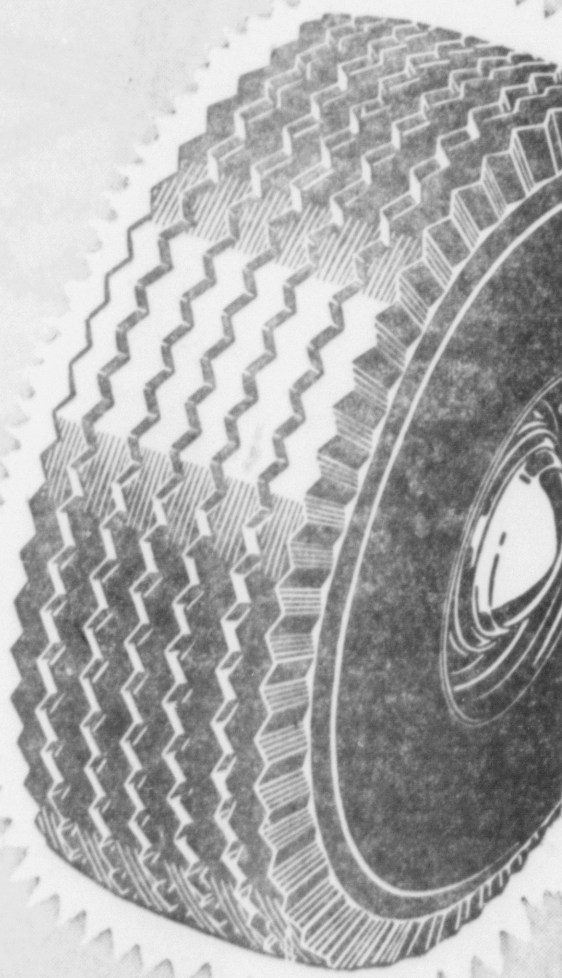

An interest in hogs comes to Bill naturally. His father was a livestock salesman and his grandfather conducted a commission business in Pittsburgh as far back as 1866. His hobby is sharing his vast knowledge of hogs with farm boys and girls.

If you should see this big, friendly man in a show ring, don't hesitate to get acquainted with him.

IT'S 2,049 MILES FROM HEREFORD, TEXAS, TO HARTFORD, CONN.

To the west of the Mississippi is produced two-thirds of the nation's meat. To the east live more than two-thirds of all Americans.

Under these conditions either livestock or fresh meat must be transported from the West to the East, and as we know, it has been found to be more economical to slaughter the animals in central plants in surplus producing sections, save the by-products, then transport the meat in refrigerator cars to the consuming sections, than to ship the live animals.

To have a market for livestock, we must find a market for meat. The job of nation-wide meat packers is to bridge the gap, an average of more than a thousand miles, made up in part from such trips as Boise, Idaho, to Boston; from Denver to Detroit; from Paducah to Pittsburgh; and from Hereford, Texas, to Hartford, Connecticut. It is necessary to have a large organization with proper facilities to handle efficiently nationwide distribution to the thousands of consuming centers of America.

This is the last page of information that we will issue until September. But please don't let the recess keep you from writing us when we can be of help to you. Better still, come and see us in Swift & Company's office building at the Union Stock Yards, in Chicago.

NORWAY RESTORED

FIVE years ago, after a defense as intense as it was hopeless, the Norwegian government was forced to flee and its country disappeared into the black darkness of Nazi domination. Men by hundreds eluded Nazi patrols to follow their king and continue the struggle under British guidance. Those left behind fought on with spirit and vigor, heedless of cold, starvation and sudden death. In four years, at least 71 Norwegians were executed and 300 secretly murdered at home, while 400 ships of their merchant marine and some 3,000 seamen were lost on Allied business. The military losses are still unknown.

Then, on May 13 of this year, four days after the German surrender, came that for which they had endured so long. Crown Prince Olav rode back into Oslo in the battle dress of a Norwegian general, through streets lined with 250,000 weeping, cheering people, nearly one-tenth of all the subjects of his father King Haakon. And while Vidkun Quisling, whose name now means "traitor" in so many languages, complained weakly of his prison food, his erstwhile legions glumly chauffeured the British First Airborne heroes of Arnhem to their new posts as liberators. The miracle was accomplished.

MODERN TRANSPORTATION

MANY people lately seem to be developing enthusiasm for something long promised, but only now coming to be regarded as practical and near at hand. This is the small passenger airplane which, apparently by a simple twist of the wrist, can be converted from a plane to an auto, or vice versa. A federal Department of Labor report says quite calmly that "combination automobile airplanes with folding wings may be promoted for private use," and that it needn't take long to get them into operation after the war. The body would probably be made of light plywood or plastic, and the motors of light metals.

That may be all right—provided we have better driving and more observance of road rules and wider roadways and various other innovations.

Flying seems thrilling and poetical to most people until a prospective flyer actually faces the prospect of going up solo, bearing all the responsibility. Put to a test, the young fellows would probably go for it, while the middle aged men and women would mostly call for a chauffeur.

"What are we going to do with Germany?" Why, sit on her stomach for a generation or two.

Fortunately General Eisenhower promptly cracked down on treating Nazi officials as "friendly enemies." There is no such thing.

Pages From the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Awake to the beat of rain on the windows, a sound to which I should have long since become accustomed, but am not. Lay for a while and thought about George who was all ready to plant corn during the day and who is more than a little liked by the weather. Like many another tiller he is wondering whether the weatherman is an axis saboteur. Up, then, and downstairs for coffee. From the breakfast room could see the potatoes rushing upward, but that gave me no particular joy for someone had told me that one can never tell about potatoes. If they sprout the bugs may get them, if the bugs miss drought may knock them, and if they escape the bugs and drought they sometimes develop little exotic foliage. the horn screaming with little or no provocation. Violent protest. Three times the horn tooted when I was gathering the mail at the postoffice. May be war nerves or a symptom that marks the beginning of the end.

A session at the office and then out to the Coffee Club, there to find Doctor Shane, the naval medical commander, home on leave and mighty happy to be here. The inevitable question and his reply that no accidental can understand the Japs or predict what they will do next. They might give up tomorrow, might fight on to the death through long years. But Commander Shane wishes the war to end early. After more than two years he has had more than enough. Incidentally, this is his second war without ever firing a shot. His service is aboard a craft that takes fighting men and their equipment into an invasion and then stands by for a full load of casualties. He has seen modern warfare in all its ugly phases, is impressed by the fighting spirit and ability of American youth, puzzled by the fighting-to-the-death of the Japs and wonders whether our statesmen and near-statesmen will be able to so arrange the peace that the next war may at least be delayed. Grand to see him again and in such good health. May luck never desert him.

It was on V-E Day that Wray Henry told me the occasion could be made truly glorious by a message from his son, Don, who first was wounded and then captured by the Germans shortly after returning to active duty. Long, long months in a prison camp and the Henrys heard infrequently, not at all of late. Then came a cable. Happy? What's your opinion?

In the afternoon only a few stores open and not too many folk on the streets. Stopped here and there to pass the time of day, tried to get into the bank as I almost always do on their half holiday, and finally decided that I could do no good in town and took off for the country. A quiet evening and then to bed at a reasonable hour.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 17—Several top Navy directors have privately served notice on State Secretary Stettinius that they will not relinquish the security bases in the Pacific—no matter what deal he makes at San Francisco.

This warning followed the threat of Navy and Army men to withdraw their support of the world conference and walk out in protest to the Stettinius proposal for international trusteeships over the Japanese islands we have won (reported in this column alone.)

The action bespeaks the anger of all military men with the administration's tendency to handle that problem as international security and human rights matter, when the American fleets in sea and air will be charged with the responsibility of maintaining whatever security is to be obtained in the Pacific. And these defense officials also are not much interested in "human rights" of the Japs on those islands.

This opposition, yet undisclosed officially for diplomatic reasons, may break up the Stettinius trusteeship program which already is enmeshed in opposition from Britain and China. If not, it will prejudice chances of senate ratification of the treaties which come out of San Francisco.

The basic position of the Navy and the Army I can report is simply this:

Any conflicts of the future are sure to arise between the great powers, meaning specifically the big three, not the big five. The three nations, Russia, Britain and the United States not only have the only remaining power to make war, but under the very terms of the San Francisco formula, each is reserving the right to make war in its own interests (veto withdrawal right.)

Russia has not joined the Chicago agreement for air universality. She withdrew from that program opening world airports, commercially and to some extent militarily. She is not opening her sea or air bases to us anywhere. Territories she has conquered such as Poland, Bulgaria, Romania, Yugoslavia, etc., are not being laid bare to "international trusteeships."

Yet her planes and fleet would have access to those territories we have conquered.

Any future conflict between Russia and the United States is likely to find action in the Pacific rather than the Atlantic. Russia is contiguous to us in the Aleutians and has bases facing ours, across Pacific waters from the Siberian mainland. Indeed, she is apt to windup this war with more in Asia than is yet apparent because her communists have strongholds in China and one of the inside deals being pressed in her behalf would give her the rich resources of Manchukuo, in exchange for declaring war on Japan.

Regardless of whatever develops in that respect, we would, with our international trusteeship proposal, provide her stepping stones across the Pacific to us.

She could use Okinawa, the Marianas, Carolines and other American-won bases coming this way, and she might some day develop the will for this. If Stalin promises not to, who can now say what Stalin's successor will decide in the future.

On the other hand, we have no desire for Asiatic conquest and would use the

Quinsy, a Tonsil Infection

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE scientific name for quinsy is peritonsillar abscess. This condition arises as a result of acute infection in the tonsils and is by no means unusual. It starts as a swelling and inflammation of the tissues around the tonsils which progress until an abscess forms above, behind or below the tonsil. Of course, this abscess causes pain in the throat, high fever, interference with swallowing and other symptoms.

Quinsy generally occurs in those who have repeated tonsillitis.

When a patient with quinsy is examined, he appears to be very uncomfortable, complains of pain and difficulty in swallowing and has trouble in opening his mouth because the inflammation and swelling in the throat causes pressure on the chewing muscles. The lymph glands at the angle of the jaw are often swollen and tender. The neck on the side where the abscess occurs is also tender. The tonsils frequently are found to be swollen and covered with secretions. Sometimes the roof of the mouth and the uvula which hangs down from the roof of the mouth are also red and swollen.

As a general rule, quinsy is not a serious disorder, if properly treated. However, in some cases it may result in serious complications. The infection may spread, causing blood vessels to break open. The infection may spread downward until it gets into the chest cavity. Blood clots may form in the large veins in the neck and blood poisoning may occur.

The usual treatment of this condition has been the application of hot and cold compresses to the neck until the abscess comes to a head, whereupon it is opened surgically and the infected material drained out. Later on, removal of the tonsils may be advisable.

Doctor Alfred B. Berkove of California has used a treatment which obviated the need for cutting open the abscess. The patients were put to bed at complete rest and the mouth was washed every two hours with hot salt solution. Many of the patients were relieved in this way. Those who had severe pain and fever were given sulfathiazole every four hours until the temperature became normal and the abscess cleared up.

With this method of treatment the abscess either disappeared or broke open and drained of itself. Penicillin has also been used with excellent results.

CHAPTER TWENTY-NINE

At midnight, Gail and Lucienne retired to the ladies' room where Gail kicked off her slippers and rubbed her aching feet.

"When is the wedding, Lucienne?" she asked.

"A month from today—the last of October," Lucienne said coolly, and turned away from the mirror. "You know, something funny happened today. Not really funny. I mean—I was kind of sorry for her. It was that redheaded nurse I had at the hospital, remember?"

Gail remembered. So Lily had made a scene. Lily knew, at last, that she couldn't hope anymore. "She got rather hysterical, Gail. I was petrified that father would hear her—he was working in the study—" Lucienne's face was composed, but she was working rather desperately on her jeweled compact. "She said all sorts of absurd things."

"She's been in love with Ralph for a long time, Lucienne."

"Yes, she told me so. She went into a lot of details. . . . Lucienne's face flushed. "She seemed to think that if I knew about her and Ralph, I'd be disillusioned and break our engagement. . . . so she could have him."

Gail looked sharply at her young cousin. "Were you disillusioned?"

"A little," Lucienne conceded. "But you've got to be sensible about such things. Ralph's almost thirty—I mean, he's had to have somebody until I came along."

Gail held her breath. "Why are you staring at me?" Lucienne demanded.

Gail smiled. "Because I admire you so much, darling." Because, she added silently, in my boots, you'd have forced Burke to marry you years ago. And have it out with his mother afterwards.

It was almost two in the morning when Stephen took Gail home.

"I've had a wonderful time," she said.

"Perhaps the Number Two boy can step up the ladder?"

"I'm sorry. . . . I'm a faithful, foolish woman, Steve. I want to cry—for Lily for all blind, believing women."

They stood outside the door, in the quiet street. She sighed. "I actually forgot about Reyna Thayer and the trial for a little while. Now it's back to plague me."

"Gail, why don't you go to Father and talk to him about it?"

"I couldn't do that!" she said stiffly. Go crawling to Cassius McCormick, play politics the way Ralph Kramer did? Stephen didn't understand, or he would never have suggested it.

"I suppose you'll have to take sides when the trial comes up," she said.

"I don't see how I can. I'd stake my life on father's integrity, and I'd also lick anybody who'd question yours. So I'm on the spot!"

They were interrupted by the opening of the door. Katie stood before them, monumental in a red wrapper, her hair done up in curls.

"Doctor Benton—" she said excitedly. "Oh, I'm so glad you're here! I've been waiting up for you—I must've dozed off."

"What's wrong, Katie?"

"It's that girl—that nurse! She called you up about twenty minutes ago—she was laughin' and cryin' at the same time—I tried to get hold of you—"

"You mean Miss Lanahan?"

Katie nodded and Gail rushed into her office, picked up her bag and was back again. "Did you find out where she was?"

"No ma'am. She kept cryin'—"

"Steve, do you mind taking me? We'll try her apartment first. I know where she lives. I treated her there once."

As they raced through the deserted streets, Gail thought bitterly, I was afraid something like this might happen.

Steve parked the car in front of the apartment house. The outside door was unlocked and they hurried up the stairs.

At Lily's door, Gail knocked urgently. There was no answer.

"I'll get the superintendent," Steve said. "He'll have a pass key."

"Wait! Lily—"

There was a faint sound in the room.

"Lily—it's Gail Benton. Let me in—"

The door opened slowly.

Lily Lanahan was framed in the doorway. She wore a violet robe, her rich red hair was in a wild mass over her tissue-white face. She looked at Gail blankly. And then she toppled to the floor.

It was seven in the morning, when Stephen and Gail came down the wide hospital steps and turned up the boulevard. Gail shivered.

"Cold?" he asked.

She made no attempt to close her navy reefer. "I'm cold way deep inside me. Steve, I want to cry—for Lily for all blind, believing women."

"Take it easy, my dear," he took her hand between his, warming it. "She could have held him up, Steve. I suppose you know that Ralph Kramer's going to marry Lucienne Thayer, next month. But Lily could have gone to him and said, 'You must marry me. . . . He'd have had to do it. You know how the hospital frowns on any suggestion of scandal! But instead, she tried to save him from his responsibility. Oh, Steve—you heard what she said!'"

He repeated gravely, "I want him to be happy. I won't ruin his life. . . . if he doesn't want me."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

ON THE OTHER FOOT

BEING IN the lead, with a lot of honors not in sequence, gives you an awful feeling. Any move you make is likely to be costly to your side. But letting an early trick go by, and causing the declarer to win it in his hand or the dummy, may put the shoe on the other foot, giving him the unpleasant assignment. Before he gets through, he may find that your lying in ambush for him meant a difference of several tricks.

♠ K 9 7 5 2
♥ A 8 7 6 5 4
♦ K 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2
♣ A 10 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2

(Dealer: West. Neither side vulnerable.)

West North East South
1♦ Pass 1♥ 1♠
2♦ Dbl 2♥ Pass 3♠
Pass 2NT Pass 3♠

A variation on a single play meant the difference between that contract being made at one table of a team game and being set at the other table. The bidding was only slightly different at each, so both Wests led the singleton heart K, which South won.

Each declarer then led the spade 2. One West could not stand the idea of letting the dummy's singleton K win, so came in with his A. Then he wondered what he would lead back. He decided that the club 2 was the least costly return. East won with the A and returned the heart J, which West ruffed with the spade 5. Now the club 5 was won by the 10, two spades cashed, also the club K, heart Q and the club Q for discard of South's last heart, leaving only good trumps in South's hand. Losing only three tricks, he made his contract, plus an extra.

At the other table, after South won with the heart A and led his spade 2, West saw that it was very much to his advantage to play low. He did, and the K won. The club 3 was brought out of dummy, East playing low, the 10 being finessed and the J winning. The club 2 to the A gave East a chance to lead the heart J, which West ruffed with the spade 7. Now the club 5 was sent to East to ruff with his spade 9, and the heart 10 was led for West to ruff with the ace of trumps. That made five tricks in a bunch for the defenders, setting the contract.

Tomorrow's Problem

Pickaway Seniors Hold Closing Activities

Wiener Roast, Trip To Columbus Enjoyed

Members of the Senior class of Pickaway township high school gathered at the school Wednesday evening for a final get-together party and enjoyed a wiener roast.

Senior Day was observed Tuesday when the class enjoyed a trip to Columbus where they visited the State Institution for the Blind; the Ohio Penitentiary and the offices in the State House.

At the Ohio School for the Blind the members of the class were introduced to a sophomore member of the school who was dismissed from daily classes in the shop to serve as a guide for the visitors. He introduced the teachers of the various classes who explained their methods of teaching these handicapped students.

The seniors saw a first grade class read and write braille, do lumber work, carry on a house-keeping project and participate in a music class. They also saw advanced instrumental music students practice, reading a measure by feeling the raised letters, practice playing that measure, read more notes and continue practicing until the music was memorized. They also visited other classes in the school and saw the dormitories, social rooms, chapel and gymnasium.

At the Capitol building they visited the Ohio Senate, house of Representatives and a session of the Ohio Supreme Court. The members of the class are Lucy Minor, Winifred Shepherd, Phoebe Timmons, Annabelle Sams, Marjorie Dreisbach, Joan Mowery, Darl McAfee, Carl Fouch, Robert Browder and Roy Jenkins. Miss Mildred Wertman the class advisor accompanied the class to Columbus and was also present for the wiener roast.

MAJORS BEGIN SECOND MONTH OF 1945 PLAY

Browns And Cards Surprise By Slipping; Dodgers, Giants Still Win

NEW YORK, May 17.—The second month of major league play begins today after a surprising start marked by (1) failure of the St. Louis teams to bid for a repeat one-city world series as expected and (2) the threat of New York or Chicago teams to do it if the Missourians can't.

J. Monroe Johnson, the Office of Defense Transportation boss, says the World Series will be "out of the question" unless both competing teams are from the same city. At the start, the general expectation was that the Browns and Cardinals would be capable of repeating, but unless both do an abrupt about-face there isn't much chance of either winning out.

However, Johnson's warning is being taken seriously by the three New York teams, with the Giants and Dodgers running one-two in the National and the Yankees in second place in the American. And the Chicago teams are co-operating nicely too, with the whizzing White Sox leading the American and the Cubs in third in the National.

But the Cards are in the second division with 10 wins and 12 losses and the Browns are in fourth with an even .500 record of nine and nine.

The first month produced plenty of surprises but nothing ranked above the crack-up of the Cardinals. Admittedly they were playing under handicaps with pitcher Morton Cooper peevish over his 1945 salary, his brother Walker Cooper leaving to go to the Navy, Shortstops Marty Marion and Al Schoendienst going out with injuries, left ace Max Lanier leaving for induction, and pitchers Ted Wilks and George Dockins suffering arm trouble.

Even so, it was beyond belief that they would win only two games out of eight to date in their first road trip against the supposedly weaker eastern teams. They hit rock-bottom yesterday, losing two to the Braves at Boston, 5 to 4, in 14 innings and, 4 to 1. The first defeat was caused by a school-boyish miff by Elvin (Buster) Adams in the ninth with two out. Boston scored twice to tie the score and won the game for relief pitcher Charley Barrett on a double by Phil Masi and a single by Dick Culler in the 14th.

Lefty Bob Logan, 35-year-old veteran back from Indianapolis, won his first start in the night-cap, taking it easy after Carden Gillenwater gave him a lead with a three-run homer in the first.

On the positive side, the biggest upset by far has been the showing of the Giants and Dodgers, since neither even had been considered first division timber.

Yet the Dodgers, playing as if they were in the World Series already, won their 11th straight game yesterday for the longest consecutive streak under the regime of Manager Leo Durocher. They beat the visiting Pittsburgh Pirates for the third straight time, 3 to 1, behind Hal Gregg's almost perfect control pitching. Gregg, in notching his fifth victory against one defeat, struck out five, walked only one.

The Giants' version of murder-er's row, Manager Mel Ott, Phil Weintraub and Ernie Lombardi hit sixth inning homers to give pitcher Bill Voiselle support for his seventh victory without a defeat, a 6 to 0 shutout over the visiting Cubs in a night game. The homers kept Ott and Weintraub tied for the league lead with seven each. Voiselle, in winning his third game since last Saturday, yielded six hits.

Dick (Kewpie) Barrett provided the Phils with good pitching in a 6 to 2 seven-hit victory over Cincinnati at Philadelphia.

MORTON COOPER SUSPENDED BY CARDINAL BOSS

Ace Pitcher Leaves Team In Boston; Believed On Way To St. Louis

BOSTON, May 17.—Another round in the salary battle between pitcher Morton Cooper and the St. Louis Cardinal management was in the offing today following Cooper's suspension by Manager Billy Southworth.

Southworth suspended Cooper yesterday after the big right hander left the Cardinals without notice, presumably to go to St. Louis for another salary conference with club president Sam Bredon.

Bredon, however, was in Rochester, N. Y., transacting business with the team's farm club there. Advised of Cooper's suspension, he said, "the matter is entirely in Southworth's hands."

"The last I saw of Cooper was in the hotel Tuesday night," Southworth said. "Frankly, I don't know what is wrong. You'd think, though, the way we are situated for pitchers that he would have said something to me about going—given me a little warning. We're really in bad shape for pitchers now with Max Lanier going home to North Carolina for induction and with Ted Wilks and George Dockins having arm trouble."

Most of the speculation here centered around the fact that Cooper probably would attempt to persuade Bredon to sell or trade him to another major league club. The big fellow told some of his team mates that he was worried over sickness at home. He had been Southworth's selection to pitch the opener of yesterday's double header with the Braves in which the Cards lost both games.

The salary dispute developed after Cooper and his brother, Catcher Walker Cooper, signed contracts calling for $12,500 each. When Shortstop Marty Marion later demanded a raise to $15,000, threatening to quit baseball if the money was not forthcoming.

After conferring with Bredon several times, the Coopers went to Leslie O'Connor, secretary of the commissioner's office. He in turn referred the matter to the office of the economic stabilization director to determine whether the Coopers were eligible for raises.

WEST NEWBURY, Mass.—The Crane Neck Hill Cemetery here came into existence purely by accident. Back in the Winter of 1747 Micah Dole died. bury Dole where the procession halted. Around this grave others laid their dead and the Crane Neck Hill Cemetery was begun.

For Thursday, May 17
A PARTICULARLY lively and enterprising day is indicated, in which it is likely public issues or association with prominent personages or organizations are concerned primarily. There may be unusual slants, brilliant or original ideas or propositions under consideration, and such may be promoted or expanded by dramatic demonstrations or unique performance, in which vivid imagination, advanced ideas, or the use of novelty, charm, beauty or spectacular appeal are important and carry weight in the public mind. A delicate degree of modesty or discretion might be effective rather than audacity.

It Is Your Birthday
Those whose birthday it is are likely to figure in the public eye or in connection with some group or community welfare or project where innovation, originality, strange or unique talents or ideas, may impress officials or superiors. There might be much strenuous, exciting or thrilling adventure in such performance, although beauty, fine ideas and poetic or scientific genius are significant, if practically demonstrated or utilized, with suitable rewards and emotional or artistic gratification.

A child born on this day will be endowed with exceptional creative talents, with fine appreciation of beauty, grace, charm, all sustained by power to apply ideals into useful realities for the public good.
